5/21/67

The file cards of individual entries in the notebook have been delivered. I am sending them under separate cover. There is a simple code indicated on the first card (I've not read any of them) showing various things. Perhaps it may still be of some value. The woman who did this is now going to check through the Library of Congress on the plays. If you have interest in any other than Memorium, please let me know.